New life in Christ Jesus through the power of the Holy Spirit

Energizing Charisms

Over the Labor Day weekend I found myself doing some labor, cleaning out some boxes from my parents' house that ended up in storage after their deaths. I came across a commencement address my father gave to the Class of 1992. It was a grand expression of the journey of life, but touched me deeply because it also conveyed so much of my dad and the essence of what he stood for. His talk ended with a quote from Edward Everett Hale, "To look up not down, To look forward and not back, To look out and not in, and To lend a hand."

These are words for the Renewal at this point in our journey toward the Jubilee. With the encouraging words of Pope Francis almost daily we have to look up. We have to look forward at what we are being called to bring to the vitality of the Church today. We are being called in the Year of Grace and Charisms for the Church to look out and not in, and always to live the Gospel we are to lend a hand.

Over the summer I had the privilege to make a presentation to the clergy and then to those in the Renewal in Memphis on the topic of charisms. Charisms are ever new. God is always leading his people through new charisms in order to look outward to fulfill the mandatum to go forth and proclaim the Gospel. In the early church there was the Order of Bridge Builders who literally engineered bridges so that the Gospel could be proclaimed in new lands. When the Roman officials took over this task the Order died off. In our modern day we have new charisms for a new age, like a new Order of Bridgebuilders equipped not with wood and nails but rather with new technologies. We are energized by going out with the use of charisms to bring others into a fullness of the grace of their baptism – the power and might of the Holy Spirit. ♦

How do people evangelize—proclaim the Gospel—in the 21st century?

In various ways the articles in this issue illustrate ministries "empowered by the charisms for evangelization and service" (NSC Mission Statement).

Bob Canton (pp 6-7) writes, "I can attest that healing the sick in the name of Jesus is one of the most effective tools for evangelization."

Saint Paul's Outreach (pp 8-9, 12) has been evangelizing college students and young adults for twenty-eight years. This last December, SPO alumnus Andrew Cozzens was ordained Bishop.

Catholic Outreach, Resources and Evangelization (CORE) Ministries (pp 4-5) discovered that simple proclamation of the Gospel in the power of the Holy Spirit, transforms individuals and parishes.

How do we become evangelizers? Jimmy Archer writes (p 10) that, "Conversion to the love of Jesus will transform us to be the witnesses the Church needs and expects."

"As you go back, bring me some fruit" (p 13). We know that Jesus told us that he has appointed us to bear fruit that will remain (Jn 15:16), and to "Go into the whole world and proclaim the gospel to every creature" (Mk 16:15).

Bert Ghezzi, in What we have seen and heard... (p 15) highlights the basics to which we must adhere and points us to the New Evangelization.

Finally, unity is necessary to bring about the most effective evangelization. The year of 2015 is designated as a Year of Unity in the 5-Year Plan (p 3). The NSC will address four emphases in a variety of ways during the coming year.

So, on your feet! "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of the one bringing good news" (Is 22:7). We are all called to evangelize. Let us hold one another in prayer that we might be strengthened and protected, that we might listen to the Holy Spirit. ♦

2015 Year of Unity

by Cruz Teresa Rosero

Searching for unity is always a struggle. Yet, it is the command of Jesus (Jn 17). Our Committee of the National Leadership Groups of the Catholic Charismatics of the U.S. has taken this command very seriously, and has been working on our relationships through prayer and dialogue. Together we are planning the 5-year Journey to the 50th Jubilee in 2017 of the outpouring of the Holy Spirit. Additionally, the 5-Year Committee is issuing a document each of those years based on the designated theme. “Year of Charisms and Grace for the Church” has been the theme designated for 2014. “Year of Unity” is the theme and aim for 2015.

? How can we achieve this difficult task within our Charismatic Renewal, within our Catholic Church, and within the Body of Christ? First of all, we need to understand what unity means. The document written by our Committee has defined it as a “call to a union that is as complete as the union between the three persons of the Trinity; not just a mixture of elements into a tenuous combination.” Second of all, we need a method and a model. “Jesus has given us the model of unity in his dedication to the Father’s will, humility, service, sacrifice, and forgiveness.” This is a method based on Jesus’ teaching: “Greater love has no one than this, than to lay down one’s life for his friend” (Jn 15:13). This may mean that we have to give up our personal visions of how things should be and our way of doing things. We do this for the higher calling to live for Jesus and not ourselves.

This means we must be constantly open to the Holy Spirit directing and teaching us. If we are willing to ‘lay down our life’ and are open to listening to, responding to and cooperating with others, we can build unity between all groups and peoples with whom we work (Rom 12:5).

To foster such a unity, four emphases should be taken into consideration:

- ⊗ Reach out to all groups influenced by charismatic renewal
- ⊗ Endeavor to lay down our lives for each other
- ⊗ Foster unity in the Renewal, unity with the Church, and ecumenism
- ⊗ Focus on the importance of community.

Within the Renewal we need to re-establish and repair broken relationships. We need to reach out to other groups influenced by the Renewal in our areas and look for opportunities to pray together. We can be open and vocal about the gift each group brings to the renewal of the Church, and commit ourselves to an ongoing communication and cooperation with them, taking into consideration the commonality we share.

We hope that throughout the year many groups, including those of an ecumenical nature, will sign the “Covenant of Understanding.” To that end we will continue to “reach out to all groups influenced by the charismatic renewal,” so that together we can celebrate the grace of the baptism in the Holy Spirit poured out so powerfully in our day. Within the Roman Catholic Church, let us be an integral part of the Church’s mission including the current focus on the new evangelization. Let us bring healing to the wounded within the Church’s ranks. As we become active team members in the Church’s mission, unity with others will improve.

In the area of Ecumenism let’s remember that baptism in the Holy Spirit has always had an ecumenical impetus. We in the Catholic Charismatic Renewal owe a real debt of gratitude to both the Pentecostal and the mainline denominational renewals that helped form us. There seems to be a new grace to work together, energized by Pope Francis. We can pray, work and grow in unity in the areas where we have common grounds such as evangelization, works of mercy, and areas of social justice.

Community life is a very important element for our focus. God manifests the Holy Spirit’s presence, not only through individual charisms and ministries, but through the witness of committed, united communities (Acts 2:42-47). So, build communities through prayer, communal vision, encouragement, hospitality and sharing of charisms. Spend time together and grow in spiritual bonds of friendship.

Finally, we recommend that at our conferences and major events during 2015 the theme of “unity” appear in the title as part of our 5-year Journey together to the Jubilee in 2017. See full document “Year of Unity” 2015 at nsc-chariscenter.org (listed under Online Formation). ♦

CORE Ministries: Catholic Outreach, Resources and Evangelization

by Deacon Mike Thoennes and Mary Hagar

The story of Catholic Outreach, Resources and Evangelization (CORE) Ministries in one sentence: We discovered clear, simple proclamation of the Gospel, in the power of the Holy Spirit, first transforms the individual lives of regular people and then transforms whole churches. We tell our story only because “it is unthinkable not to give witness to what the Spirit has done.”

Mary Hagar embarked on a deep internal search for a purpose in life not found in “Catholic activity” nor in standards of human success. Sad, lost, empty, Mary cried out to God to show himself. Mary found the presence of a living, loving and healing Jesus who, at the same time, poured out his promised Spirit for a personal conversion with lavish abundance of gifts for the Church.

In early Spirit-led years Mary had a welling passion to evangelize, desperate for an outlet. Her teaching gifts took on charismatic power. As a Youth Minister and DRE she used every conversion tool the Church offered. It was exciting yet depressing. First the “choir came.” God bless them or she’d have been talking to herself! However, the universal response to “making disciples” was always the same: “We don’t know what you’re talking about nor how; are you sure this isn’t heresy?” Attempting to evangelize during Jubilee 2000, Mary found a disconnect between the emerging vision of the Church and people in the pew. One life-long Catholic summarized it saying, “Mary, the Church is on yet another train to a dead end.”

Thinkstock Deacon Mike Thoennes, a product of Religious Education, was known as a “good Catholic” boy. He “graduated” at Confirmation—sacramentalized but not evangelized. Later, ordained to serve the Church, less sure that Jesus was who he said he was. Finally questioning whether he was more a disciple of the Church than of Christ.

So by God’s plan, a long-time charismatic and a new deacon, never having met each other, ended up in the same parish at the same time. Mary invited Mike to attend the Healing Conference at Franciscan University... he didn’t realize it was charismatic. Once there, he decided to “endure” the weekend. It was too late—God had other plans! One evening, Fr. Ed McDonough said he had a gift of the Spirit to sprinkle people with holy water and they would be baptized in the Holy Spirit. While Mike doubted its truth, it happened.

Mike’s gifts for administration, preaching and worship perfectly complimented Mary’s gifts of teaching, hospitality and discernment. In time they discovered the emerging whole (meaning, CORE) was greater than the sum of the parts. They talked, prayed, studied, and sought like-minded Catholics. Prayer confirmed it: “Wow! Look where the Church is going and nobody knows it!” We concluded that, rather than swimming in the prophesied ocean of grace, we were floundering—so God showed us how to swim.

A flyer for a 10-day School of Catholic Evangelization through Renewal Ministries arrived. We enlisted our hungry people to go. To say we experienced an epiphany hardly covers what happened. With clarity, focus, and power the School placed the strange-sounding “evangelization vocabulary” in the context of the proclamation of the Gospel, in the setting of all of salvation history and our place in it by virtue of Baptism.

The clear vision came: Stop struggling to do the work Jesus claimed for himself: "If I am lifted up, I will draw all people to myself." It's deceptively simple and shockingly true: convert hearts "solely on the message itself." Following the advice to "test all things," we'd show up for duty, point to Jesus, and get out of the way. We also knew we needed a simple tool and environment to present the basic Gospel message. We were at a standstill, either find that tool or start from scratch.

God's timing is perfect. A flyer arrived: "Alpha in a Catholic Context." Again, we took a crowd and agreed, "This is it!" Alpha provided what we'd have done if we started from scratch. With approval of Archbishop Harry Flynn we piloted Alpha as an evangelization tool: a tool to enfold the yeast of the Gospel, working it throughout all the lumps of dough of Church life.

We didn't have every charismatic gift so we drew together a team who had all the gifts needed to become "environment architects." Using Alpha with the explicit approval of our pastors, we centered every area of church life and catechesis on a love relationship first so that information and content could take hold.

We redesigned content, curriculums, presentations, and set environments whose activity and information were preceded by and dovetailed with a personal connection to the Lordship of Christ and his Spirit. We believe that people needed to belong before they believe. We would form communities built upon, within, and among Spirit-empowered groups. Imagine: layer upon layer of proclamation activity introduced into all the raw material of Church including Councils, Committees, Sacramental prep, RCIA, Youth Ministry; Religious Ed, Adult Formation, Parenting, Family Life, Senior activity as well as ministries at the Mass—the list goes on!

Our pastors didn't have to wait long to see fruit! After years of mediocre success we discovered that the truth of the Gospel is magnetic, life-giving, and mission-directed all by itself. With a growing base of empowered Catholics, young and old, on-fire because Jesus has captured their hearts, declining rural churches began bubbling and fighting for life.

Astounding! Significant life and church changes happened so consistently that many paid attention: people, parishes and even our archdiocese. As evidence of "fruit" spread to hungry parishes we were filled with requests for help. CORE expanded with over 60 team members. We began to support Catholic evangelization wherever we could. CORE has mentored more than 30 Catholic parishes and many Protestant parishes. We were blessed by Renewal Ministries to tell our story at various "Evangelization Schools" including the Archdiocese of St. Louis, Diocese of Houma-Thibodaux, Archdiocese of St. Paul and Minneapolis, and other smaller venues across the country with hope to stir others to "test the truth" in their local setting and watch it catch fire!

The fruit from an anointing and empowering Spirit speaks for itself: blossoming parish, larger Mass attendance, double and triple RCIA programs, marriages restored, relationships healed, lost souls returning to the Church after decades of absence, and more meaningful sacramental reception. CORE has faithfully documented hundreds of written and video testimonies and was featured in a recent episode on EWTN by Renewal Ministries.

Our on-fire Catholics now lead, teach and facilitate Alpha Courses, Youth Alpha, AlphaSprouts (an age-centered Alpha Course for children so families can attend together), Workplace Alpha, Senior Center Alpha, Parenting Courses, Marriage Enrichment Courses, Life in the Spirit Seminars, Adult Faith Formation, Prayer groups, Confirmation retreats, and many Scripture studies.

The story of CORE is a vast accumulation of evidence that barriers fall in the face of truth; that proclamation activity always finds favor with God; and his Spirit always pours out an abundance of gifts to be able to do so effectively. The evidence is in! Only one verdict is possible: The treasure in the field is real, true, life-giving and empowering for mission. Sell everything to find it. You can't waste a day. ♦

The Gift of Healing

Still active in today's world

by Bob Canton

We read in the book of Luke 7:20–23, When the men came to Jesus, they said, "John the Baptist has sent us to you to ask, 'Are you the one who is to come, or should we look for another?'" At that time, he cured many of their diseases, sufferings, and evil spirits; he also granted sight to many who were blind. And he said to them in reply, "Go and tell John what you have seen and heard: the blind regain their sight, the lame walk, lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, the poor have the good news proclaimed to them." Jesus Christ is indeed the Divine Physician and the source of all healing.

Teaching of the Roman Catholic Church regarding healing

The Catechism of the Catholic Church asserts that, "Christ's compassion toward the sick and his many healings of every kind of infirmity are a resplendent sign that 'God has visited his people' and that the Kingdom of God is close at hand. Jesus has the power not only to heal, but also to forgive sins; he has come to heal the whole man, soul and body; he is the physician the sick have need of" (1503).

In the book, Instruction on Prayers for Healing, published by the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, we read, "Christ's meeting with the sick is one of the most human aspects we find in the Gospels. This meeting is for the total, global salvation of the person, and not only to bring bodily health alone, overcome physical sickness and hence avoid 'becoming bogged down in the impossible aim of finally defeating death.' The meeting between Christ and the sick, is, both in the Gospels and still today, to heal the person in his or her totality, and hence with a dimension of eternity."

Pope Benedict XVI, in his book, Jesus of Nazareth, writes that "Healing is an essential dimension of the apostolic mission and of Christian faith in general. It can even be said that Christianity is a 'therapeutic religion, a religion of healing.'"

According to Guidelines of Prayer For Healing, a booklet published by the Doctrinal Commission of the International Catholic Charismatic Renewal Services (ICCRS), there are four basic categories of healing, namely physical healing: the healing from physical sickness and disability; psychological healing: the healing of wounds to the human psyche, including emotional wounds; spiritual healing: this means, above all, the "healing from sin" that restores a person to a relationship with God; and exorcism and deliverance.

How to pray for healing and achieve results:

In exercising the ministry of preaching, teaching, and healing in many countries throughout the world, I can attest that healing the sick in the name of Jesus is one of the most effective tools for evangelization. I have witnessed people who came to know the loving and the saving power of the Lord Jesus Christ through the ministry of healing.

"These signs will accompany those who believe: in my name they will drive out demons, they will speak new languages, they will pick up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing, it will not harm them. They will lay hands on the sick, and they will recover" (Mk 16:17-18). In the light of what Jesus said, any baptized believer can pray for the sick. While it is true and generally recognized that there are particular charisms of healings given only to some, this should not preclude any baptized Christian from praying for the sick.

The following are some of the ways of praying for healing, especially physical healing, to achieve results. This list is by no means exhaustive nor exclusive:

◆ Have a constant, personal, intimate, day by day and moment by moment relationship and fellowship with the Lord. Without this kind of relationship with him, one's life is devoid of real power. In John 15:5, 7, Jesus asserts, "I am the vine, you are the branches. Whoever remains in me, and I in him, will bear much fruit, because without me you can do nothing." "If you remain in me, and my words remain in you, ask for whatever you will, and it will be given unto you."

◆ Avail yourself of the sacraments of the Church, especially the sacraments of Reconciliation and the Eucharist. The healing minister may encourage the sick to do the same.

These are the most powerful sources of healing, including the sacrament of the Anointing of the Sick. The Catechism (1509) states, "The Church believes in the life-giving presence of Christ, the physician of souls and bodies. This presence is particularly active through the sacraments, and in an altogether special way through the Eucharist, the bread that gives eternal life and that St. Paul suggests is connected with bodily health."

◆ Always say a "protective" prayer before the healing session to prevent any contamination or transference of spirits of affliction and infirmity into anyone. A prayer of command invoking the name and the blood of Jesus for protection and to bind any spirit of harassment or retaliation is recommended.

◆ Invoke Mary and the Holy Angels for their intercession and protection.

◆ Have an expectant faith. "I say to you, if you have faith the size of a mustard seed, you will say to this mountain, 'Move from here to there and it will move. Nothing will be impossible for you.'" (Lk 17:6). Have faith that the Lord can work in and through you for his glory.

◆ Ask questions and listen attentively to the person to whom you are ministering before you start praying. Information such as the kind of sickness the person is suffering from, the doctor's diagnosis, the person's faith in the healing power of Jesus, may guide you on how to proceed in praying for the sick.

◆ Lay hands on the sick. Jesus laid hands on the sick and healed them. However, proper discretion should be used with the laying on of hands.

◆ Use the name of Jesus. There is power in the name of Jesus. "If you ask anything of me in my name, I will do it" (Jn 14:14).

◆ Be open to the Holy Spirit and his gifts, especially prophecy, word of knowledge, and discernment of spirits. These are great tools in conducting the ministry of healing.

◆ Obey the voice of the Lord. Obey the leadings and the promptings of the Holy Spirit. "Obedience is better than sacrifice, submission than the fat of rams" (1 Sm 15:22).

◆ "Call the things that are not as though they were" (Rom 4:17). I personally describe it as a "build up prayer." An example of this is a prayer asking the Lord for brand new eyes for the blind or brand new eardrums and auditory nerves for the deaf and so forth. "For God, nothing is impossible at all" (Lk 1:37).

◆ Ask Jesus to apply his precious blood and his healing touch into the diseased parts of the person's body. "By his stripes, we were healed" (Is 53:5).

◆ "Seal" the healing with the blood and the name of Jesus and the mantle of the Virgin Mary so that the healing may last. This could prevent symptoms and the sickness itself from recurring.

◆ Pray a "cleansing prayer" after the healing session. This prayer is intended to prevent any entity or spirit of infirmity and/or spirit of retaliation to attach itself to anyone involved in the healing prayer. Prayers for refreshment of mind and body and renewed anointing from the Holy Spirit are also desirable at this time.

◆ Give praise to God's goodness and his healing love. "Through him, let us continually offer God a sacrifice of praise, that is, the fruit of lips that confess his name" (Heb 13:15). ◆

Please pray with the National Service Committee for the following intentions:

- ◆ That Charismatic Renewal will be a lively leaven in the Church, to raise up millions more Catholics to proclaim the Lordship of Jesus and embrace a full life in the Spirit.
- ◆ That we would all be good stewards of the charisms that the Holy Spirit bestows on us, not burying them but willingly share them in the upbuilding of the Church and the evangelization of the world.
- ◆ That the National Leaders' & Ministries' Conference, November 7-9, 2014, would be a milestone event, a significant point of Igniting the Renewal for its service to the Church, a significant point of Igniting Charisms for building up the Body of Christ, a significant point of Igniting Unity within and beyond the Renewal.
- ◆ For all who respond to the call of the New Evangelization, that their zeal will not fade and their strength will be renewed each day.

Why include the NSC in your will?

As you know the National Service Committee relies almost entirely on gifts from individuals to continue its mission. We ask you to please consider a gift to the National Service Committee when you make your will or update it. Making a gift to the NSC can be as simple as adding a codicil to your existing will or estate plan.

You may use this or a similar statement: "I/we bequeath $_____

Catholic faith alive on college campuses

by Gordy DeMarais

Our young people are losing their faith and abandoning morals in alarming numbers. For many, that happens in college. According to a recent study, only 10% of those between the ages of 18 and 25 attend Mass at least once a month. In her book Forming Intentional Disciples, Sherry Weddell expresses the same concern:

If something doesn't change in the next ten years it will cease to matter whether there is a priest shortage.

In view of this crisis of faith—and it really is a crisis—Pope Francis is encouraging the faithful to reawaken our call to evangelization and mission. Last fall, he wrote in his apostolic exhortation Evangelii Gaudium:

If something should rightly disturb us and trouble our consciences, it is the fact that so many of our brothers and sisters are living without the strength, light, and consolation born of friendship with Jesus Christ, without a community of faith to support them, with out meaning and a goal in life.... Pastoral ministry in a missionary key seeks to abandon the complacent attitude that says: "we have always done it this way". I invite everyone to be bold and creative in this task of rethinking the goals, structures, styles, and methods of evangelization (EG 49, 33).

We need a fresh approach, a new strategy.

Our Holy Father is telling us that the status quo does not cut it when it comes to our understanding and approach to mission. We need a fresh approach, a new strategy. We need to be creative, bold, and committed in this missionary call. The Catholicism of the twenty-first century needs to be, in the words of George Weigel, an evangelical Catholicism characterized by “radical conversion, joyful discipleship, deep fidelity, and courageous evangelism.” These terms aptly describe the vision, strategy, and mission of Saint Paul’s Outreach.

The ministry of SPO is to recruit and train young adults to serve as missionaries on college campuses.

Saint Paul’s Outreach (SPO) has been evangelizing college students and young adults for twenty-eight years, long before the term became popular in our Catholic vernacular. SPO is one of a number of apostolates that originated from the St. Paul Catholic Youth Center in the Archdiocese of St. Paul and Minneapolis in the late 1970s and early 1980s, each of which are fruits of the Catholic Charismatic Renewal. The other ministries include a covenant community serving families (Christ the Redeemer), an evangelistic youth ministry serving high school students (NET Ministries), and an association of diocesan priests (Companions of Christ).

The ministry of SPO is to recruit and train young adults to serve as missionaries on college campuses. Some are recent graduates who serve full-time, while others are part-time student volunteers. Chapters established on college campuses are led by these missionaries; at the heart of each SPO Chapter is an evangelistic community of students and staff that reaches, calls, forms, and sends out young people to be life-long disciples and leaders in the New Evangelization. At its core, the life of a Chapter is based on Christ-centered relationships and a structured pattern of frequent events and activities. These Chapters are overseen and run by SPO Mission Centers currently located in Arizona, Florida, Kansas, Minnesota, New Jersey, Ohio, and Texas.

Joint household meal

The Process of Evangelization

The Saint Paul’s Outreach method and strategy of reaching college students, calling them to conversion, forming them to be mature disciples, and sending them out on mission begins each summer with our missionary training. In June and July, we train our Mission Leaders who have chosen to offer at least two years of their lives in full-time evangelistic service.

If we are going to reach college students, we need to go to them.

This year, more than 100 full-time staff and missionaries participated in this training. In August, these missionaries join two hundred additional student missionaries from campuses around the country for a week-long training program called the School of the New Evangelization (SNE). SNE is a powerful, life-changing experience for many. These young adults are not only equipped with the tools and skills to effectively evangelize their peers, but also immersed in a vibrant faith-filled community where they can experience deeper conversion and grow in their relationship with the Lord.

Following SNE, SPO missionaries take off for college campuses across the nation to start their ministry. If we are going to reach college students, we need to go to them. Most college students are not knocking on the doors of the Newman Center or Campus Ministry office asking for help growing in their faith. As SPO’s approach to evangelization is relational, our missionaries begin to engage students in the ordinary circumstances of college life, in the places where they study, socialize, and recreate. The first weeks on campus are very important. Students are making new friendships and deciding how they will socialize as soon as they get to campus. Knowing this, SPO missionaries organize Catholic Rush Week (CRUSH) helping students move into their dorms, hosting parties and recreational events, sponsoring hog roasts and corn hole tournaments, and participating in student activity fairs.

As SPO missionaries build these relationships with students, they invite students to participate in retreats where they can experience a reawakening of their faith. At the heart of SPO retreats is a renewed personal encounter with Jesus Christ and prayer for a greater outpouring of the Holy Spirit. While this conversion—often times life-changing—is important, it is only a

Editor's Note: In response to the Holy Father's words at the Italian Renewal's 37th National Convocation where he was asked to tell the Renewal what the Pope expects from us, the Editorial Board of Pentecost Today decided to reflect on several points Pope Francis made over the next few issues. The following reflection is the first.

Conversion to the Love of Jesus!

by Jimmy Archer

It was an historic moment as the Holy Father met with over 50,000 Renewal participants from 55 countries in Rome's Olympic Stadium. His affirmation of love brought great joy and hope to the Renewal as reflected in these words:

“You were born of the will of the Spirit as ‘a current of grace in the Church and for the Church.’ This is your definition: a current of grace.”

“You have received the great gift of the diversity of charisms, diversity that leads to the harmony of the Holy Spirit, to the service of the Church.”

“Charismatic Renewal is a great force at the service of the proclamation of the Gospel, in the joy of the Holy Spirit.”

It is fitting that the first thing Pope Francis would expect from us is: “conversion to the love of Jesus, which changes life and makes of the Christian a witness of the love of God.” He went on to say: “the Church expects this witness of Christian life and the Holy Spirit helps us to live the coherence of the Gospel for our holiness.”

Conversion to the love of Jesus is often misunderstood by many to mean “conversion to love Jesus,” which is not a bad thing; however it is a response, not the initiating action of Jesus’ love for us! “This is love: not that we loved God, but that he loved us and sent his Son as an atoning sacrifice for our sins” (1 Jn 4:10). More than reminding ourselves of this great truth, it must become the center of our identity. We are loved by God and it is the embrace of this love that changes us.

Most of us have encountered the living God through our baptism in the Holy Spirit and experienced the love of the Father being poured out into our hearts by the Holy Spirit as we surrendered to the lordship of Jesus! Scripture tells us that we are so dearly loved by the Father that we have become children of God. He is our Abba and we are his beloved! “See what great love the Father has lavished on us, that we should be called children of God! And that is what we are!” (1 Jn 3:3).

What I believe conversion to the love of Jesus means is the process of surrendering our perceptions of ourselves, and the perceptions of how others see us, to the absolute truth of who we really are: beloved sons and daughters of God! This is the work of intimacy with Jesus and he is the initiator of that intimacy! Our part in the work is to clear the deck and become receptive to the infinite ways that God wants to lavish his love upon us. “As the Father has loved me, so have I loved you. Now remain in my love” (Jn 15:9). Remain in my love, stay put, and don’t move from my love. Don’t go back to misperceptions of yourself, remain in my love! Don’t try to become something you’re not or something someone else wants you to be, remain in my love.

Throughout your spiritual journey, remain in his love. Jesus goes on to say: “If you keep my commands, you will remain in my love, just as I have kept my Father’s commands and remain in his love. I have told you this so that my joy may be in you and that your joy may be complete. My command is this: Love each other as I have loved you” (Jn 15:10-12).

Conversion to the love of Jesus will transform us to be the witnesses the Church needs and expects. And the Spirit of Jesus will empower us to live this life of intimacy so others may come to know that they too are the beloved sons and daughters of God! ♦

Jimmy Archer is a member of the National Service Committee for the Catholic Charismatic Renewal and a member of the Pastoral Service Team for the Renewal in West Virginia. He and his wife Taffy and son Andrew live in Fairmont, West Virginia.

Transitions

In a little less than a month, three of the former members of the National Service Committee departed for what, it is hoped, is heavenly glory.

Fr. George Kosicki, C.S.B. was a Basilian priest, who was baptized in the Holy Spirit in the earliest days of the Renewal and served on the NSC from its formal inception in 1970 to 1975. By training, he was a biochemist but also a great spiritual writer and thinker. Several of his books were influential in the early days of the Renewal including The Lord is My Shepherd: Witnesses of Priests (1973) and The Spirit and the Bride Say, "Come!": Mary's Role in the New Pentecost.

He was instrumental in conceiving 40 Days of Intercession for Priests and continued to foster intercession for priests as he moved into study and promotion of the Divine Mercy message. Prior to the illness which led to his death, Fr. Kosicki lived for twelve years as a hermit within the Community of the Companions of Christ the Lamb in Michigan. He was 86 when he died on August 11.

Gerald (Gerry) Mader was baptized in the Holy Spirit in the early 1970's. He held several leadership roles in the Renewal: Chairperson for the Service Team in the Archdiocese of Milwaukee and later Assistant Liaison; after his move with his wife Lois to Fort Myers, Florida he became the Chairperson of the Diocese of Venice Service Committee. He first came to the national level in 1992 from Milwaukee as a member of the NSC's Advisory Committee, a position he served in until August 1998. He was later appointed to the newly constituted NSC Council in 2000 and served until his election to the Service Committee in January 2005. In 2002 Gerry had been asked to serve as the NSC's Development Manager, a position he held until late 2013. (For more see the Friends of the NSC column on page 14.)

During his nearly nine years on the NSC Gerry served in many capacities including Conference, Outreach, Finance, Membership and Development. He was a conference and outreach speaker and the writer of several articles in Pentecost Today and two of the NSC Leaflets: "Word of Knowledge and the Word of Wisdom" and "Gift (Charism) of Tongues." He died on August 20 at the age of 75.

John (Jack) Brombach died on September 3 after a fall that led to a concussion. He was 84. Jack was one of the founders of the Servants of the Lord Christian Community in the early 1970's (now Servant Branch of the People of Praise). He was a member of the initial Advisory Committee to the NSC in 1971 where he served until his election to the NSC in 1975. He was a member of the Service Committee until 1984. Jack was known for his easy-going pastoral style and deep love for the Lord and his family. He was a conference speaker for many years.

These three join the previous seven members of the NSC who have died:

- Fr. Jim Ferry (1977-1983); died 1989
- Fr. Emile LaFranz (1990-1995); died 1995
- Fr. Ralph Weishaar (1984-1990); died 2000
- Fr. Hal Cohen (1973-1982); died 2001
- Bishop Joseph McKinney (1978-1982); died 2010
- David Thorp (1984-1991; 2002-2004); died 2011
- Fr. John Randall (1977-1983); died 2011

May each of these, who served this great Renewal so well, rest in peace. ♦ beginning. The parable Jesus tells us about the sower and the seed is a reminder that it is equally important to help young people become mature in their faith. As a result, college students are subsequently invited to participate in SPO formation programs that include regular instruction on how to live the Christian life, men's and women's small groups, formation prayer meetings, and service opportunities. For an even fuller immersion into the SPO community, some students will choose to live in one of 36 SPO formation houses established near or on campuses SPO serves. For many of these students, their experience living in a faith community day in and day out is a final step in embracing a life of faith for themselves. These students often become the next wave of SPO missionaries. Indeed, the work of evangelization is only complete when the one being evangelized becomes an evangelizer. The SPO missionary cycle is complete when young people become missionaries themselves.

The impact on our Church—and our Future

The quality of SPO formation efforts on college campuses is being manifested not only by thousands of alumni who are committed, faithful, practicing, dedicated Catholic adults, but also in the kind of leadership in which so many of our alumni now find themselves. In 28 years, SPO alumni have founded two new associations of priests and religious, are leaders in education and high school administration, are rectors of minor seminaries, professors of theology in major seminaries, directors of diaconate formation, and general superiors and postulant directors in religious orders. They staff marriage and family life offices and are leaders of pro-life organizations and clinics. They are doctors, lawyers, accountants, entrepreneurs, and laborers bringing Christ into their spheres of influence. Last December, SPO alumnus Andrew Cozzens was ordained a bishop. Through the grace of the Holy Spirit, the impact of Saint Paul's Outreach has been nothing less than extraordinary—and the work has just begun.

SPO is transforming the way campus ministry is done in the Catholic Church. We are transforming individuals, who are subsequently transforming the Church and the culture. Jesus says in Matthew's Gospel, however, "the harvest is plentiful and the laborers are few." We ask that you join us in praying that the Lord would continue to send more laborers into his vineyard. ♦

A long-standing leader in youth and young-adult ministry, Gordy DeMarais co-founded Saint Paul's Outreach in the early 1980s on the campus of the University of St. Thomas in Minnesota.

Grace and Charisms: The New Springtime of the Church

by Marianne Skrobiak

In May, we gathered at the Oblate Renewal Center in San Antonio for our annual Association of Diocesan Liaisons (ADL) conference. The theme was "Grace and Charisms: The New Springtime of the Church." Dr. Mary Healy, Fr. Bob Hogan, BBD and Walter Matthews each wrote powerful papers on various aspects of that theme specifically applying it to our work in the local Renewal.

In addition to these presentations, we addressed how to draw more people into a personal relationship with Jesus. The love among those gathered was palpable, as it was the love of our Lord himself. The conference was filled with fresh ideas, zeal for the Lord and an eagerness to get involved, that is, to be part of the larger body. Interesting small group discussions following the presentations generated many ideas. (ADL members are able to access all the papers that are part of our archives from 1977 to present. If you are a liaison and have not yet joined this dynamic organization, please consider doing so now.)

We celebrated Mass daily, had powerful praise and worship time as well as prayer time with one another not only at the center, but also at Mission San Jose where thousands have done so in the past. Archbishop Gustavo Garcia-Siler of San Antonio, celebrated Mass with us as well.

Gathering at 'the table' out on the grounds with our Lord was a highlight for many. We had the opportunity to just "be" with Jesus at a long table with twelve stools around it and a large bronze statue of our Lord breaking bread. On the last day someone had placed several apples on the plate in front of Jesus and this prophetic word came: "As you go back, bring me some fruit!"

Wow, we take those words very seriously and the only way we know how to do this is to share the love of Christ in community, in our prayer groups and in our parishes by participating and remaining connected to the greater Renewal. The body is only as strong as the individuals who comprise the body. That's us my friends.

We are planning our next convocation for April, 2015 in Philadelphia. We hope to see all liaisons there. ♦

Don't let the "Year of Charisms and Grace for the Church" pass you by!

Charisms are tools for the New Evangelization

These tools are explored in a variety of articles, books, leaflets and booklets published by the National Service Committee (NSC).

Charisms is a booklet exploring the gifts of the Spirit in a collection of articles first published in Pentecost Today magazine. Titles include:

- Charism of teaching
- The charism of healing today
- Prophecy
- The charism of tongues
- Agents of mercy
- Three basic signs of a charism ● and more...

The booklet includes questions for reflection or for group discussion.

NSC Leaflets offer an in-depth view of specific charisms (gifts of the Spirit), their purpose and how to use them.

Among the titles:

- The Gifts of the Holy Spirit
- The Charism of Miracles
- The Gift (Charism) of Tongues
- Discernment and Discernment of Spirits
- The Word of Knowledge and the Word of Wisdom
- Understanding and Exercising the Gift of Prophecy
- Pastoring Word Gifts

Celebrations

Surely one of the many things we have learned in this great Renewal is “to celebrate with great joy” (Neh 8:12) with brothers and sisters: whether at a weekly prayer meeting or annual conference, at a wedding feast or a funeral Mass.

On August 9, 800-1,000 brothers and sisters “gathered together” for “A Celebration of Movements and New Communities in the U.S. in Service of the New Evangelization.” We came from more than a dozen different movements and new communities to give thanks to the Lord for what he is doing in the Church in our day in the outpouring of the Holy Spirit in the movements and new communities, to get to know one another a little bit better, and to hear challenging words about living in holiness, communion and mission. We will have more in the eNewsletter and on our website soon.

“Cooperating with other Catholic organizations and movements” is part of the mission of the NSC and we encourage you on the diocesan level to get to know your brothers and sisters in the other movements and new communities, and to gather to celebrate with joy and thanksgiving.

My wife and I were then able to attend two entirely different celebrations in the weeks that followed. The first was the Mass of Thanksgiving, celebrating Bishop Sam Jacobs’ 50 years as a priest and 25 years as a bishop, held at the Cathedral of St. Francis de Sales in Houma, Louisiana. With more than a dozen bishops present and a hundred priests and deacons, and the Cathedral packed, Bishop Sam was honored and challenging as he proclaimed the word of God about the Lordship of Jesus Christ, the love of the Father and the power of the Holy Spirit in his homily.

The special issue of the Bayou Catholic included these words of Pope Francis to Bishop Jacobs: “...we give thanks for his fruitful spiritual journey and then for his pastoral undertakings...and most especially mindful of his energy in the realm of charitable works, we wish him the rewards of his merits...we bestow upon him our auspicious Apostolic Blessing as a Divine reward.” To which we add, ad multos annos!

A week later we were in Fort Meyers, Florida (able to drive there because we were halfway there on vacation in South Carolina) for the Memorial Mass and Burial of Gerry Mader. Gerry was not only a co-worker in the vineyard, a friend and a brother to us—he was like an older brother. The Mass had been planned by Gerry and his wife, Lois, back in 1992 and was filled with the Renewal songs of that day. While there were tears, when he was buried in a simple garden outside the Church we felt like dancing: another son had gone home.

In 2017, when the Renewal celebrates our 50th Anniversary Jubilee, we will gather in Rome for Pentecost, June 4 (we await more details from ICCRS), and in Pittsburgh July 20 (Thursday)–23 (Sunday). Save the dates!

Until then we hope to see you in Pittsburgh, November 7–9 for this year’s Conference. Bring a young leader with you, and encourage a priest or deacon to attend the Afternoon for Priests, Deacons and Seminarians. I already have my dancing shoes on! ♦

Friends of the NSC

Of the three former members of the NSC who died in the space of a month, none was more tied into the Service Committee’s effort to raise the funds needed to support the mission of “fostering the dynamic grace of baptism in the Holy Spirit” than Gerry Mader. Gerry served as our part-time Development Manager from 2002 until he “retired” in 2009. In 2010 he “unretired” and again took up the challenge of calling donors to thank you and to invite you to consider another gift and/or pledge. He continued to serve until 2013 when Jimmy Archer stepped in, first as Assistant Development Manager, and then as Manager. Gerry remained active in fund raising until this year when his health deteriorated.

We owe a great debt to him for his sacrifice of time, energy and effectiveness.

Even at the end, he and his wife Lois had decided that instead of flowers for his memorial, donations should be made to the National Service Committee. To date we have received ten such gifts with more to come.

If you would like to make a special donation in memoriam of Gerry Mader, just write that on the memo of your check or call us to make a credit card gift.

The Campaign, Toward the Jubilee: 50 Years of Grace for the New Evangelization, has moved into Phase II and is nearing the $300,000 mark. If you have not yet been contacted, you will be. If you have been contacted, and not yet made a pledge or a gift, please do so.

We will be launching Phase III of the Campaign in Pittsburgh in November.

Not a donor? Please use the enclosed envelope in support not only of Pentecost Today but of all the work and ministry of the NSC. Or visit our website, www.nsc-chariscenter.org, to make a secure credit card donation. The website is simple for you to use and cost effective for us.

Sticking to the Basics

I was baptized in the Holy Spirit at Notre Dame in March, 1967. For nearly fifty years that spiritual renewal has shaped my daily life. Early on I learned the basics of life in the Spirit and I have stuck to them:

■ Basic 1:

Being baptized in the spirit, especially yielding to the gift of tongues, transformed the way I pray. I discovered that I was worshipping Jesus in an unknown language. To this day it has made adoring the Lord the dominant feature of my daily prayer.

■ Basic 2:

The Holy Spirit has taught me to receive and exercise charisms. I have discovered that my spiritual gifts equip me to be an encourager with words, both in teaching and writing. For example, I work hard preparing for a talk, but when I'm speaking I can sense the Holy Spirit prompting me with unplanned ideas or examples.

■ Basic 3:

Baptism in the Spirit activated in me the Isaian gifts—for the mind: wisdom, knowledge, counsel, and understanding; for the heart: piety, reverence, and fortitude. Often during a day I ask the Holy Spirit to work one of these in me, especially fortitude in the face of challenges.

■ Basic 4:

I have learned to let the Spirit guide me both in my daily responsibilities and in my Christian service. When I have to handle a family concern I ask him to give me the right words or move me in the right direction. I have counted on the Spirit to lead me in my efforts to bring others to Christ and the Church.

■ Basic 5:

Being baptized in the Spirit has trained me in expectant faith. Experiencing a renewal in the Spirit required me to expect the Lord to act. Now, many years later, I expect the Spirit to act in daily ways. I often pray, "O God, come to my assistance; O Lord, make haste to help me." I do it with expectation and watch for his response.

So my encouragement to others in the Catholic Charismatic Renewal is twofold:

▲ First, we must focus on the New Evangelization—recruiting men, women, and children to become disciples and helping them receive baptism in the Holy Spirit.

▲ Secondly, we must stick to the basics ourselves and train others to practice them faithfully.

I invite all to join me in praying to the Holy Spirit daily for the spiritual renewal of our families, friends and neighbors. ♦
